EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Preliminaries of the Preparations for Crowning Cardinal McCloskey.

NEW YORK, April 26.—Great preparations are making at the cathedral for the ceremonies of imposing the red hat to-morrow. Carpenters have been erecting a platform on a level with the floor of the sanctuary, which will extend from the chapel several feet out into the body of the church, and will provide accommodation for the archbishop and bishops who are to take part in the services. A throne has been erected on the right of the sanctuary, which will be occupied by Archbishop Bayley. On the left of the sanctuary is the cardinal's throne, a chair exactly like it, but in height; which has been specially gilded and its jewels covered with scarlet velvet. The remains will not be profusely decorated, it is thought by those having charge of the matter, for the hangings of scarlet which are to be suspended before the stained window and between the pillars behind the throne, will, together with masses of flowers to be used in bouquets and emblems of peace to beautify the sanctuary. The altar itself will be handsomely decorated with a rich background of white satin and gold bullion, and will best display the vestments of the clergy. The brilliant effect produced by the blazing candles and brilliant display, and the whole will be made dazzling by a flood of light from the windows. Vice-Consul-General Quinn is besieged by a host of applicants for seats, but all are turned away with the answer that none but those already furnished can be admitted. Every foot in the cathedral will be occupied. The organ in the cathedral will undergo careful inspection. This afternoon a full rehearsal of music will take place.

THE TILTON-BEECHER TRIAL.

Continuation of Partridge

NEW YORK, April 26.—In the Beecher trial this morning the cross-examination of Partridge was resumed, and he testified at length to his circumstantial account of the memorandum slip attached to the check, which it appears he took from his pocket book and has carried since in his pocket book for safety, showing it lately to counsel for the defense and prosecution.

Edward J. Wright.

Mr. A. T. Stewart, testified that he overheard Wright say to some one in a street car in November, 1871, relating to the Woodhull publication, he did not care so much for himself, but only for his wife, whose health was delicate.

Cross-examined, he said he didn't know how Wright learned his information.

Direct with Lapierre Palmer.

Palmer, witness, testified that she was a widow; had been a divorce from her husband, W. D. Hart; became acquainted with Mrs. Woodhull, through the labor reform movement; accepted a position in her office in the year 1871, when she became acquainted with Tilton; called at his office with Mrs. Woodhull, and went to her office. There was conversation between Mrs. Woodhull and Tilton about the publication of the Woodhull scandal, in the Golden Age and the paper conducted by Woodhull-Claflin-Blood-Tennessee Claflin-Blood movement. The Golden Age was to be a political paper, and Tilton asked me to be agent for it, but I declined. During the spring and summer of 1871, I saw Tilton, at Mrs. Woodhull's office talking much; saw him often at the house; knew he was in her bedroom about four times, because some person said so. There was writing material kept there. I saw him sitting at the desk once. Saw him on the way down once, with Mrs. Woodhull, and was about leaving the house and bidding them good-by; his manner was always affectionate towards her, calling each other Victoria and Theodore. Saw them kiss each other once, and it was across around each other, and they talked about becoming the heads of the spiritualists of the country. Once I heard conversation between Mrs. Woodhull and Tilton about the scandal against Beecher, and Tilton said his wife was pure as snow, to which Mrs. Woodhull replied it was not in the nature of things for man and woman to be thrown together as teacher and Mrs. Tilton were and not have something take place between them. Early in 1872, before publication of the Woodhull scandal, I heard her read the proofs of the scandal to Tilton, and she gave them to her to read. It was then published. Beecher-Tilton scandal. I said if she published anything relating to the lives of persons she would only get herself into trouble, and that I would be for death before I [illegible] if she published this story I would not have any thing more to do with her.

The usual recess here interrupted proceedings.

NEW YORK, April 26.—In the Beecher trial, after the cross-examination of Mrs. Palmer was continued. She testified that her present husband was an [illegible] dealer and she was a trance medium and assisted him by making diagnosis of disease, helped him thus before their marriage. She could see things invisible to others; could see all [illegible] conceived by persons during their lives written on their souls; had seen spirits during control while she was being examined. She was married to her present husband a few days after getting a divorce from her former one. She believed in the sanctity of the marriage relation and was opposed to all free love doctrines and familiarities practiced between Tilton and Mrs. Woodhull before Col. Blood—Blood was in the bedroom when witness saw Tilton there.

B. F. Tracy.

One of the counsel for defense, was the next witness, and testified to the date and length of his acquaintance with Tilton, Moulton, Robinson and Woodhull. Some days after the publication of the Woodhull scandal, he had a conversation with Woodhull about the matter, but the conversation was merely a general one. Some time afterward Woodhull came to him and asked if he would consent to be [illegible]. Beach here said he would be unable to attend court to-morrow, having to argue a case in New York, and suggested an adjournment in order that Fullerton might be present and cross-examine the witness. Court thereupon adjourned.

SOUTH AMERICA.

Revolution in Bolivia.

PANAMA, April 26.—Bolivian advices state that on the 5th of March last President Prats left La Paz for Oruro, taking with him one half of a battalion, leaving the rest, the other half remaining in Vicachla. The rebel citizens of La Paz, when they thought the President far enough away, broke out into a revolution. A council, minister and a small force of young men shut themselves in government palace and determined to resist any armed attack by the people. A terrible and unyielding struggle took place. The people on their part tried to fire the fortress. Women even took part, in communist fashion, and threw burning sheets, dipped in kerosene, on the roofs. While this was going on a force of 600 men, sent off for Vilchla and informed the Government of the half battalion that was there of what was taking place at La Paz. Granier at once put his force in motion and pressed his men over six leagues at a quick march, and arrived at La Paz just as the young men who defended the government house were about to surrender. He immediately charged the rebels and routed them, killing 58 and wounding a great number.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Secretary Delano to-day freely expresses the belief that the recent newspaper charges affecting his official integrity are the result of a conspiracy to compel his retirement from the Cabinet. He is in receipt of numerous letters from friends in various sections of the country, advising him to abandon the purpose formed, as he has stated, last fall, to resign about this time. Secretary Delano now says that, in accordance with this advice, and with his own judgment of his duty to himself and to the Republican party, he has postponed his resignation indefinitely.

HOW TO JUDGE WOOL.

There is perhaps no defect which renders wool, and otherwise good wool too, so absolutely useless for manufacturing and especially for combing purposes, as coarseness, or brittleness; and this defect is more general and causes greater loss to the country, through the pockets of our sheep-owners, than all the other defects in our wools together. However little or however much wool in every other desirable quality may exceed, no sooner is it submitted to the acute and skillful examination of the wool-sorter, classer, or manufacturer, than its deficiency in this respect is detected and a price is bid, for it scarcely exceeding that offered for locks and pieces; in fact nothing is wanting to reduce fleece to that class but the solution of continuity which is sure to take place in the course of the very first manufacturing process to which it is subjected. On the whole it is to be feared that this defect is yearly gaining ground. Certain it is that wheresoever this most objectionable tendency manifests itself sheer carelessness, neglect, ignorance, over stocking, inordinately large paddocks, or scarcity of feed or water—each or all—will be found. When sheep get into very low condition, the pores of the skin contract and permit only wool of a very fine fibre to extrude. When the feed once more becomes abundant the pores expand, and permit the passage of a larger and stronger fibre. In consequence of this, the fibres are stronger than their centres, and the wool upon the slightest pressure snaps at its weakest place, viz.: At the portion which grew when the sheep was in the lowest condition. But nothing is so sure to cause a break in wool, or indeed in many sheep a perfect stripping or shedding of the entire fleece, as want of water. It is not only important that wools should be free from the defects above described, but it is desirable that the whole of the various parts of the fleece should have as nearly as possible a uniformity of character—that is as regards fineness, length of staple, density and softness. The method of determining this quality of evenness is thus described: "Always assuming that the wool to be inspected is really a fine wool, we first examine the shoulder of the pelt, where the finest and best wool is usually found. This we take as the standard, and compare it with, in turn, the wool from the ribs, the thigh, the rump and the binder parts; and the nearer the wool from these various portions of the animal approaches the standard the better. First we scrutinize the fineness, and if the result be satisfactory, we pronounce the fleece, in respect of fineness, very 'even.' Next we inquire into the length of the staple, and if we find that the wool on the ribs, thigh and back approximates reasonably in length to that of our standard, we again declare the fleece, as regards length of staple, true and even. We next desire to satisfy ourselves of the density of the fleece, and we do this by placing the hand upon a portion of the rump and of the loin wool, the fleece at these points being usually the thinnest, and faulty, and if this again give satisfaction, we signify the fact by designating the wool 'even' as regards density. Now to summarize these separate examinations: If you find the fleece of nearly equal fineness from the shoulder to the thigh, of nearly equal length at the shoulder, rib, thigh and back, and of equal density at the shoulder and across the loins, you may conclude that you have a nearly perfect sheep."—Sydney, New South Wales, Town and Country Journal.

THE CONNECTICUT ELECTION.

One of the ablest and most judicious of all the Republican journals is the Chicago Tribune. Because it comes from such a source as well as because of its manifest truthfulness, the following explanation of the increased Democratic majority—in Connecticut is worthy of particular attention:

The Democratic success in Connecticut is not difficult of comprehension. To begin with, Gov. Ingersoll is an able and popular man. He is a member of an old family of Connecticut which has been prominent in the politics of the State for more than half a century. He entered politics for the first time two years ago, has made a good Governor, and is a worthy gentleman. To defeat such a man and overcome nearly 7,000 Democratic majority in the State, the Republicans should have put forward their best material. Instead of doing this, they nominated Mr. Greene, mayor of Norwich, a "force bill" extremist, calculated to alienate the moderate Republican voters instead of regaining those who had already gone off. Mr. Greene was the gentleman who distinguished himself by ordering 100 guns to be fired in Norwich when the House of Representatives passed the odious force bill, which so luckily failed to become a law. He followed up this ultraism by making speeches during the campaign which were susceptible of a third-term construction. So far as the personal relations of the two candidates to the Governor enter into the general result, they afford another instructive lesson to the Republican leaders, if they really desire to reunite the party and recover lost ground.

MILITARY NOTES.

The Walla Walla Spirit, of April 23d, contains the following:

JUDGE BOREMAN ON POLYGAMY.

A few days since the dispatches said Judge Boreman of Utah had charged the grand jury of his district, that persons who had contracted polygamous marriages so long ago that the statute of limitation had run, since, but who still lived with the wives then married, was guilty of the crime of polygamy and should be indicted accordingly. This was directly opposed to a decision by Judge Emerson of another district, and of course the matter excited considerable attention. Following is Judge Boreman's charge on the subject:

Polygamy or bigamy will also require your attention. This is a crime very prevalent in this district, and throughout the territory. Its polluting effects are seen on every side, and in every community. The children of such marriages are generally growing up as wild animals, without training, instruction or parental care, who found dead, with a mass of bullion and boxes piled upon him. Poor Miller, than whom a nobler railroader or private gentleman never lived, was found literally pinned in between the baggage car and engine with rods and frame work. An effort was made to extricate him, as he was yet alive; though almost superhuman endeavors were made, all was unavailing, and the soul of the remaining of the three doomed railroaders passed Over There. Register mail agent Miller and two newsboys were also somewhat, though by no means dangerously injured.

THE TERRITORIES.

The Union Pacific rolling mills at Laramie, constructed last year, cost nearly half a million dollars.

Boise City, which has done without a jail all this time, now begins to feel the need of a place for her "d——s," etc.

Bro. Mayfield of the Walla Walla Spirit, will suspend the publication of his paper for a while to obtain a rest and collect up.

The new and elegant church erected by the Methodist denomination at Dayton, in Walla Walla county, during the past season, will be dedicated on the 9th of May, Rev. Mr. Havermale officiating.

There is a general and well founded impression that salt exists in abundance in some parts of Idaho Territory. The works at Lincoln alone, it is said, are capable of supplying an immense population.

The Owyhee Avalanche of April 10th seems to have no "spirit of true inwardness." In fact the "inwards" of the number sent us is of the same virgin whiteness as when the paper came from the factory.

The arrangements for the erection of an oil mill at Waitsburg, W. T., are fast assuming a practical form, and the prospect is now very good for the establishment of this praiseworthy and profitable industry.

Captain E. B. Codding, acting quartermaster, has been relieved from duty as post quartermaster at Fort Saunders, W. T. An order has been issued in his case to stop his pay, with the exception of $50 per month, until he makes the proper settlement with the third auditor of the treasury.

We learn from the Umatilla Free Press "the depth of snow in Eastern Montana on the line of the stage road from Helena, during the past winter was twenty feet on the level." That is true, says a Montana paper, making the small difference of nineteen feet, which is of no consequence to speak of.

An order has been issued stopping the pay of Captain L. C. Forsyth, acting quartermaster, until it amounts to $4,678 52, on account of a deficiency in a quantity of oats at Fort Ellis, Montana, found to have occurred while he was on duty there as post quartermaster, and for which he was responsible.

The Denver News says that Captain John S. Godfrey, of New Hampshire, is said to be intending to visit Colorado on a professional tour for the purpose of locating living streams and springs of water, and also mineral bodies of every description. Captain Godfrey claims no supernatural power in the accomplishment of the work he has declared to be simply a sensitive organism or powerful current of electricity in himself, so powerful as to attract him irresistibly to living streams and mineral deposits beneath the surface.

The Idaho World, says there is more water in More and Elk creeks than ever known before; tons of tailings are being borne down by the turbulent muddy torrent and the high water threatens to inundate the lower end of town, including the World office. Mr. George Wise has been in from Deadwood Basin and reports that only three men wintered in the camp. Snow was four feet deep; eight feet in Onion valley, and as deep on the high mountains he could form no estimate of the actual depth.

A letter from Waitsburg, W. T., to the Spirit, says: "The Cumberland Presbyterians have been holding an interesting series of meetings at the M. E. church during the past week in addition to their Presbytery; and we notice quite a number of our Walla Walla and Dayton friends are in attendance, besides some from other localities. On Friday evening last the Presbytery licensed Prof. Edmiston of Colfax, to preach the gospel. Not being a regular attendant, I am not prepared to give all the proceedings of the body. We will shortly have four preachers stationed at this place, representing as many different orders or doctrines, and if Elder Van Horn will only come and spread his tent in the campus, I think he can corral all the rest."

SIGNIFICANCE OF THE JOURNEY OF THE KING OF SWEDEN.

The Copenhagen correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette writes: The telegraph will no doubt have informed you not only of the intention of the King of Sweden to visit the Emperors of Russia and Germany during the coming spring, but it will also have informed you that these visits have been postponed. The journey, though delayed, is looked upon here as most likely to take place, and it is not looked upon in Denmark with much satisfaction. If, I am rightly informed, as I have every reason to believe, the King will arrive here one of the first days in June, and after spending a couple of days in Copenhagen will proceed to Berlin. The visits to St. Petersburg will take place a few weeks later. I should in no way be justified in saying that any very serious consequences are feared, yet, considering the ideas which it is here believed that King Oscar II. cherishes of having a slice of Denmark himself next time it is carved on the Russian sideboard, the journey, nevertheless, is looked upon as an indication that there may be something in the wind. It is a public secret that the relations between the Swedish and Danish royal families are anything but warm, although an attempt was made last year to arrive at a rapprochement. Ever since the death of the late King of Sweden, father of the Crown Prince of Denmark, who, as well as the late King of Denmark, was a great advocate of the "Scandinavian idea," which consisted in trying to make the three kingdoms under one rule, the mutual sympathy between the people, which seemed to have grown rapidly, has disappeared as quickly simply because it was nourished by artificial means. The quarrels and disputes between the Danish and Swedish pilots in the Sound, which during the autumn of 1872 even looked very serious, created much bad blood, while several Swedish papers seem to have made a point of picking a quarrel with Denmark. I repeat that I have no reason to believe that anything serious will arise from these visits, but those who watch the European game of fluff must not let the move of a single pawn pass unnoticed."

The following harmless (if hard) hit we find in one of our English exchanges. The "doctor" referred to, it will be perceived, is a reverend doctor:

I cannot praise the doctor's eyes,
I never saw his glance divine;
He always shuts them when he prays,
And when he preaches he shuts mine.

The April term of the circuit court of Josephine county commenced on the 19th inst. Only one case which came to issue at this term, the Briggs case, in which Mrs. Briggs and her son are accused of the murder of their son's teacher, came up for hearing.

Capt. Barnes, of Goose Lake, Lake county, is in Portland purchasing cattle for his ranch, buying 350 head, and has purchased 1,000 head in the county and has partly herded on the desert. When he has completed it, will be driven to his ranch in Goose Lake.

It is now confidently expected that a two-story brick hotel will be erected this season in Baker City. The amount of money is being subscribed for the purpose of aiding the enterprise, the loan to be paid back in bonds when the hotel shall be completed.

One day last week, near Lebanon, Mr. Taylor was leading his horse from the field where he had been plowing, and while passing through the gate, some part of the harness caught, and the animal gave a sudden jerk backward, which threw Taylor round in such a manner as to dislocate one of his ankles.

The Baker City Herald of [illegible] says: "Every indication of the present winter weather. The [illegible] this city are [illegible] and last week's snow storm [illegible] successors, and the scenery is very beautiful indeed, while the hills are clad in velvety green."

Judge Prim has admitted Wm. Wilson, of the Brown brothers, to bail in the sum of $10,000 in the county jail at Jacksonville, in the sum of $10,000. His Honor granted the motion on the sworn testimony of Drs. As yet [illegible] have not been procured.

The Pendleton Tribune of last Saturday says: The Umatilla River has overflowed its banks in many places. Some of the [illegible] and some portions are inundated. A number of cattle have been drowned. A farmer living on the road bordering on the ranch of [illegible] Welch has been impassable [illegible] and teams now wind around over the [illegible]. Mr. Atwood, of the [illegible] attempting to go the old road last week, upset, unharnessed and came near swamping his stallion.

Under date of April 20th, our Baker City correspondent says: "Since writing you weather has continued warm. Powder river is up—booming—as high water as we have seen since 1866. To-day, water receding. If you have heard particulars of the drowning of ex-Col. Sanders, Confederate [illegible] in Powder river, Grand Ronde valley, Dare county, it is singular that we [illegible] zero to summer [illegible] and trees budding [illegible] possibly in May warm fires will be necessary. Mining prospects for the coming season good. Trade is lackward and dull. Flour and bacon scarce and high priced."

J. P. Miller, government [illegible] Umatilla reservation, gives the [illegible] information relative to the reservation, which raises them somewhat [illegible] tion. The government agent supplies them with flour and other food rather than [illegible] down and out and go to the hunting grounds of the Indian. The wheat on McKay creek by the Indians is exceedingly well cleaned, the kernel being very well cleaned, the kernel plump and white, and making a fine flour. A considerable portion of it is brought to town by Klickitat Indians with ponies, and sold to the whites, but the price varies according to the wants of the whites and the whims and necessities of the Indians.

TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 27, 1875.

LOOK OUT FOR THE IMMIGRANTS.

Yesterday we offered some suggestions upon the importance of furnishing employment to newly-arrived immigrants, by the building of various home industries. Something of that sort will have to be done if immigration should pour into our State in such numbers as there now appear reasons to expect. There are many arriving by every steamer. The passenger lists do not show the actual arrivals. The immigrants, for the most part, are not in circumstances to come in the first cabin, and only such as do come so are named in the passenger list. From two to six or seven hundred people are brought here every week by the steamer, who come to make their homes with us if they can. This is partly an overflow from California's immense influx of population, and partly a direct and original current from the Atlantic and Mississippi Valley States.

People are pouring into California at the rate of one thousand per day, and the question is already being seriously asked, what is to be done with all these immigrants? The valleys are filling up, and the settlements are climbing up the mountain sides. It is the people who have been driven from their homes further east by the rigors of the climate, by the plagues of locusts and grasshoppers, by floods and the tempests, that compose this vast flood-tide of population flowing into California; and the drought of the present season can not but be disheartening to them. They will not like California—certainly many of them will not—and they will come to Oregon if they can see any inducement to do so. While California gets her vast increase of population, the increase in Oregon will be by no means inconsiderable.

But what are we to do with these immigrants when they reach here? What shall we do with twenty, thirty, fifty thousand people who may reasonably be expected to come here within the next year? They are strangers. They can not find employment without some assistance. Some already have gone up the valley, to find the best lands all occupied, and have been greatly discouraged. The State board of immigration, in this city, have done excellent service in directing the strangers to the most desirable localities, when called upon; but many of the newly-arrived immigrants do not know there is such an organization, and they think they can not afford to stop at Portland and lie on expenses, until they can make inquiry and obtain the information which they naturally expect to find more readily in the strictly agricultural sections of the State. This should be remedied in some way. It seems like sheer imposition to ask any more from the generosity of the gentlemen composing the Immigration Board than they already are doing gratuitously; but there is a pressing need of something being done to prevent any immigrant from wasting his time and money in acquiring information which he might obtain in twenty minutes at the rooms of the board. What is wanted is that every stranger should be informed before he leaves the steamer, of the existence and object of the board, and of the character of the gentlemen composing it—the latter as an assurance to him that he has not been taken in by sharpers.

Then, if possible, there should be always some person at the rooms of the board who could give the immigrants information as to all vacant, school, State and railway land, where situated and its general qualities. This should extend to Washington Territory as well as Oregon, for the interests of the two are identical so far as this question of population is concerned. There are a few gentlemen of high character, who could point out every section and parcel of land of all the several classes above mentioned, and could give such a description of each tract as would enable the immigrant to say at once whether he wished to go and see it. This should be done, if possible. There is no other country, we venture to assert, in the whole world where sober and industrious people can get a start so easily and become independent so quickly, as in Oregon. We have room for hundreds of thousands of them if only we could be ready to make the most of our advantages for helping them to homes. The best lands are, of course taken, and their price is beyond the reach of the generality of immigrants, who do not care to go in debt for a farm. But, there is practically no limit to the lands that can be made into good homes which will support people better than the plagued and frozen prairies of the northwest.

For some days nothing has been heard from the Pennsylvania miners' war. When the next accounts reach us, the chances are about ten to one the substance of them will be that the riotous strikers have concluded to resume work and "all is quiet along the lines." But no one will ever take the pains to ascertain just what amount of money the strikers have paid for their folly, in loss of time, and direct expense, nor how much they have added to the hardships and destitution of their families. It is demonstrable that these attempts to compel increase of wages by force result in nearly every case in adding to, instead of diminishing, the evils they are ostensibly at least, intended to remove. Of all the ways to solve the labor and capital problem in such a manner as to benefit the laborer, Molly Maguireism is incomparable the most futile.

Accounts of the farming prospect in California become more and more gloomy every day. Except in the limited districts where the heavy sea fogs lend somewhat to counteract the effect of the lack of rain, the crops will be little more than a failure. Wheat is already being cut for hay, in some places, all hope of its maturing having been abandoned. There will probably be little or no surplus wheat produced in California this year. Other crops also are suffering, though the first reports of damages to grapes by late frosts seem, fortunately, to have been overdrawn. All things considered, the prospect for California farmers is not encouraging.

We are informed the ground is getting rather too dry for the plow in many localities, and the farmers would like a little rain. It is said, however, that but little remains to be done in the way of seeding, and that the young crops are springing up in excellent style. We observed, passing along the railway in Washington county a day or two since, that the fields were nearly all sown and many are waving green already.

The Philadelphia Times is the only Eastern paper we have seen that has expressed an opinion since Mr. Beecher took the stand, as to the position in which his testimony places the case. That paper says the evidence "is overwhelmingly against him," and that he has a mill-stone about his neck, which has not been in any wise removed by hanging another one about the neck of Tilton.

The San Francisco Post estimates that California is capable of supporting a population of 12,000,000 of people. Coming it rather strong, we should think.

Ordinance No. 1025.

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE TIME and manner of Improving Front Street from the center line of Washington street to the north side line of Ash street.

The City of Portland does ordain as follows:

Section 1. The proposed improvement of that part of Front street lying between the center line of Washington street and the north side line of Ash street shall be commenced as soon after the 5th day July, 1875, as practicable, and completed as herein after provided, by this Ordinance on or before the 15th day of October, 1875.

Section 2. The surface of the street shall be cleared of all planks, timber or other obstacles or obstructions, excepting sidewalks of the proper width and grade that are in good condition. If the planks, timber or other obstacles are not removed by the owners of the adjacent property within three days after receiving notice from the Superintendent of Streets, the same shall be removed by, and become the property of the contractor.

Section 3. After all the material of the old pavement (excepting the sand) has been removed, the street between curbs shall be dressed up by spreading over the road bed a layer of coarse sand, to within seven and one half (7½) inches of grade at the center and its cross-section shall correspond with the cross-section of the pavement when laid. The grade of the gutters shall be eight inches below the grade of the sidewalk, except where otherwise directed.

Section 4. A layer of one and one half inch boards of sound yellow fir shall then be laid in courses lengthwise of the street and conforming to the grade and crown thereof as directed by the City Surveyor, their ends resting upon stringers of one and one half inch boards running across the street, not more than twelve feet apart.

Section 5. Blocks of sound yellow fir six inches in depth, three inches in thickness and in length not less than six nor more than ten inches shall be set up edgewise upon the flooring in rows running across the street, to the gutters. The rows shall be separated by strips of inch boards three inches wide and not more than three feet in length placed on edge. The rows of blocks shall break joints with each other. The blocks shall be fitted so as to make close joints, and shall be uniformly laid, not varying more than a quarter of an inch in the same row. All rot, sap and defects in the lumber shall be trimmed off, and the rows both of blocks and strips shall be laid close together.

Every third row of strips shall be nailed to the blocks and flooring by a ten (10) penny nail driven slanting downwards at each end of strip.

Section 6. The space between the rows of blocks and above the strips shall be filled with clean gravel compactly rammed by means of a pavers rammer and an iron blade prepared to fit the joints.

The gravel shall be composed of pebbles of such size as will pass through a sieve with wires three fourths of an inch apart, and shall be free from objectionable particles.

Section 7. Planks six inches in thickness and twelve inches in width shall be laid alongside and closely fitting to the curb, and flush with the top of the pavement blocks, except as provided in Section 8.

Section 8. Where practicable a curb six inches thick and twelve inches wide shall be placed on edge along the sides of the gutter plank, commencing twelve feet north or south from the line of block, at which point the top shall be flush with the top of gutter plank, and sloping up to within two inches of the hight of sidewalk at the line of block, and shall maintain this hight around that portion of the intersection shown on the Plan in the Auditor's office.

Section 9. The intersections of streets shall be improved with Nicholson pavement as hereinbefore described except that the blocks and the footing shall be splayed from curve upon the said intersections. The grade at the east side of Front street shall be such as to conform to permanent improvement. The top of blocks shall be flush with either the gutter plank or outer curb, as the case may be. At the west side line of Front street at the intersections of Washington, Stark, Oak, Pine and Ash streets; and at the East side line of Front street at the intersections of Washington, Oak and Pine streets, there shall be placed a curb of yellow fir timber, six inches thick, eighteen inches wide at the center of street and tapered down at the sides to correspond with the grade of the street.

Section 10. Sidewalks on each side of wood, six inches thick, eighteen inches wide, and in lengths of not less than sixteen feet. Their ends shall be cut square to make good joints, and each joint shall be battened with a piece of plank three feet long, three inches thick and twelve inches wide, securely spiked to the inside edge of the curb, with six-inch spikes. Round corners shall be constructed at the corners of the sidewalks and the sills and covering plank for the sidewalks shall be put down and supported in accordance with the provisions of Section 7, of Ordinance No. 703, entitled, "An ordinance in relation to the Improvement of streets," except as hereinafter provided; provided that nothing in this section shall be so construed as to prevent the owner of any property front setting or maintaining a suitable stone curb, to be approved by the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

Section 11. Where practicable, aprons shall be constructed as shown on the plan before spoken of. In other cases they shall be made in the usual manner.

Section 12. Where necessary, catch basins shall be constructed with suitable sand boxes and chutes, according to plan.

Section 13. All lumber used in the construction of the pavement and sidewalks shall be of the best quality of sound yellow fir, free from sap, shakes, or loose knots, and shall be sawed of uniform thickness, with good, square edges.

Section 14. All materials furnished by the contractor that are not in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance shall be at once rejected by the Superintendent of Streets, and shall be immediately removed by the contractor. In case any work is put down and it is afterwards discovered that improper materials have been used, or that the work has not been properly done, the same shall be taken up and replaced with good material and done in a workmanlike manner, at the contractor's expense.

Section 15. The contractor shall take entire charge of the work during its progress, and shall be responsible for any loss or accident occasioned by carelessness or neglect.

Section 16. The contractor or contractors shall give security in such sums as the Committee on Streets and Public Property shall determine, for the faithful performance of the work, and also to hold the city and the property owners interested, free and harmless from any and all claims for royalty or the use of any patent right now in force for the laying of the Nicholson pavement or any part thereof.

Section 17. The Committee on Streets and Public Property are hereby authorized, on behalf of the Common Council to advertise for, receive proposals and enter into contract with the lowest responsible bidder or bidders for the improvements contained in the foregoing sections of this ordinance. Said contract shall contain a provision to the effect that after the commencement of the work upon the street, the same shall be carried forward continuously with as much rapidity as possible, not exceeding fifteen days for each block, without the written consent of said committee.

Section 18. The improvements shall be completed as herein provided, to the satisfaction of the Committee on Streets and Public Property and the Superintendent of Streets.

Passed the Common Council April 21, 1875.

W. S. CALDWELL, Auditor and Clerk.

Approved April 21, 1875.

HOMES FOR SALE.

STRANGER, IF YOU MEAN "BIZ," HAVE A little money and are on the work, we're the identical chaps you have traveled; the "plains purses" to see. When you say "Home" you strike our strong weakness. Right here, within the sound of the church bells, we have good land for from $25 to $100 per acre. Remember this is within 3 or 4 miles of the Metropolis of Oregon, where people wear store clothes, observe the sabbath, ride on steamboats and railroads, have spelling schools, with a soil and climate not excelled for vegetables, fruits, cereals, hops, and "inguns," with a cash market, and no fear of drought, curculio, grasshoppers or crickets; no "spanish grants" to rob you; where we have telegraphic communication with Europe, Asia, Africa and Plymouth Church; where ministers don't have to take summer vacations, for we've got a Brooklyn of our own; and where a Real Estate Agent is given a "wide berth." Yes, if this suits you, and you want to raise fruits, and vegetables, and chickens, and make butter, and WORK, we can fill the bill. True, they are in the rough; but WILL and MUSCLE, and BRAINS will make Homes of them in the fullest sense. So come right along.

PRESIDENT [illegible] J. MATHEWS, Vice President.

The [illegible] connection with the [illegible] scene of the conflagration, [illegible] country alacrity the several companies [illegible] the work of extinguishing the flames began in earnest. When first discovered by the inmates of the house the flames were seen to issue from a box placed in the corner of a room in the second story. By the time the department arrived the fire had reached the roof and was burning fiercely along the rafters. Tiger Co. No. 5 arrived on the ground first and soon sent in a stiff stream which rapidly checked the progress of the flames. Other companies arriving almost immediately, the fire was speedily extinguished. The fire was confined almost entirely to the [illegible] but large articles of household furniture had been burned. Considerable damage was sustained by the latter from the water. The entire damage to building and furniture will not exceed $300. Mr. C. D. Burch, now residing in California, is the owner of the property, the building is occupied by his son-in-law, Mr. Hay. There is no insurance on the building or household effects.

RUNAWAY—DRIVER INJURED.—On Monday morning about 9 o'clock, a large span of horses belonging to Sheriff Jeffery took fright and ran away. The team was attached to a wagon used in hauling brick from the kilns on the outskirts of the city. At the time of the accident the driver was loading the wagon with brick, and was about half finished. Before the horses could be stopped by the driver they had run a short distance. In their wild course they struck the corner of a building, and in the collision the driver was thrown to the ground. He caught hold of the bridle, but he was dragged under foot and one wheel of the wagon passed over his body, inflicting what are thought to be serious injuries. On dashed the team, until Fourth street was reached, when they turned up that thoroughfare and continued at an accelerated rate of speed. Mr. Davis, a street commissioner, being on horseback, immediately gave chase, and at length succeeded in overtaking the fugitives. Riding in advance of the horses, he caused them to slacken their speed, and finally brought them to a halt. There was no damage done to the wagon. The result of the injuries sustained by the driver cannot at present be determined.

BURIAL OF CAPT. RANDALL.—A friend writing to the Pendleton Tribune from Umatilla under date of April 22d says: "On Tuesday evening, April 20th, the body of Captain E. D. Randall arrived here for interment. It was sent by Overland Lodge No. 23, I. O. O. F., by Hassalo Lodge No. 15, of which he was a member, that lodge having, I suppose, been apprised of the fact that the Captain had expressed a desire while living that if he died in reach he would like to be buried at Umatilla. His body was found below the falls at Celilo, and, on August 1st, and the body identified as being that of Capt. E. D. Randall. It was then encased in a metallic coffin, hermetically sealed, and sent to Dalles. We received it, took it to the hall, and watched with it during the night, and yesterday evening, the 21st inst., we buried it, the Masons participating. The burial service, both ones was used, he having also been a member of the Masonic fraternity. Before every one in or about Umatilla attended the funeral. During his stay with us the Captain made many warm friends. He was an industrious, honest, reliable gentleman."

DEATH OF AN OLD PIONEER.—Mr. W. Ogden, son-in-law of Hon. T. J. Dryer, one of the oldest citizens of Portland, quietly breathed his last yesterday afternoon, at the residence in the northern portion of the city, after a protracted illness of many weeks. The disease was consumption. Mr. Ogden came to Portland in 1849. From 1852 to 1854 he was connected in business with John H. Breck, on Front street. At different times he held public positions. In 1860 he was appointed secretary to Hon. T. J. Dryer, commissioner to the Sandwich Islands. On his being relieved there, some four years afterwards, he returned with his family to this city, and has resided here since. Deceased was a man of superior business qualifications, possessed a liberal education and a fine accountant, was a genial and cultivated gentleman and a possessor of many manly and noble qualities of heart. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn the loss of a husband and father. Peace to his memory and rest to his ashes.

BODY FOUND.—A note from Oregon City received yesterday, states that the body of Samuel Newman, who was accidentally drowned by being knocked off the steamer Dayton while on that boat was in the basin, on the 23d inst., was found on Saturday near the spot where the said accident occurred.

APPOINTED.—In chambers, yesterday morning, Judge Shattuck appointed a receiver, on petitioned in the cause of Gallick vs. Whi[illegible] et al. Richard Everding was appointed.

TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 27, 1875.

CITY.

DROWNING OF COL. SANDERS.—Brief mention was made in this paper last week, of the drowning of Col. H. D. Sanders, brother-in-law of Mr. D. A. Lancaster of Portland. From the Baker City Herald of April 21st, we obtain the following additional particulars: "The following was coming this way and as it approached the crossing of Phillip's creek—about a mile beyond the station—Colonel Sanders was requested to get out and walk across on a log along with the helper; but he preferred remaining in the sleigh. The helper an assistant who accompanies each trip of the stage over the mountains) crossed over on the log. As the sleigh went in the creek the forward end dipped deeply and flooded the sleigh bed, and the Colonel becoming frightened jumped out, snatching up a mail sack, and both disappeared beneath the flood and were seen no more. The mail which the sleigh contained floated off and was lost. The stream at this point is not very wide, and is generally a dry and plunge and it is crossed. The forward part being considerably elevated the forward part, being considerably elevated in the deepest part, of course it was an easy matter for the mail matter to push out at the rear. Had the unfortunate man not jumped as there was no particular danger. It is not thought the drivers are to blame, as the stage crossed over in the morning all right, and it didn't look any deeper water than when crossed in the morning. Search was at once instituted, and proved unavailing until the next day, when the body was fished up some two or three hundred yards below the scene of the mishap. The body had caught on some brush. The mail sack was also found near, which was returned to Portland. Col. Sanders has been interested in mining operations at Baker City, and was well to do. He has a wife residing at San Francisco, who will receive a terrible shock by his sudden removal from life. He has a sister (Mrs. D. A. Lancaster) at Portland, we understand."

PERSECUTED FOR RELIGION'S SAKE.—In this enlightened age, and especially under a free government—such as Americans are proud to own—where the inalienable right of all, to worship God according to the dictates of conscience, is guaranteed by the supreme law of the land, we are little prepared to expect that here in our midst, in the city of Portland, superstitious idolatry and religious intolerance would enforce their claims to the extent of the cruel scourge. But such is seems is really the case. On last Sunday afternoon the sacred ordinance of Christian baptism was administered by Rev. D. J. Pierce, pastor of the first Baptist church, to ten Chinese pupils connected with the mission school. This number of pupils, made application a few days before to Mr. Pierce, desiring admission to the church. The relatives and friends of a number of the applicants, it was understood, were bitterly opposed to their renunciation of the religion of Confucius, and the adoption of the Christian faith, but it was not supposed that this hostility would ripen into open persecution and violence. On Sunday evening one of the Chinese was severely whipped for thus daring to profess the Christian faith, and three others were denounced and disowned by their friends and connections. Placards were placed up in different portions of the city, on which were written something in the Chinese language, the purport of which is the branding of these converts as apostates to their true creed, and the withdrawal of friendship from them by their countrymen. What other acts of a similar nature may yet be indulged in by hostile friends and relations remains to be seen, regarding these prescriptive measures. But those professing the new faith manifest their determination to stand firm in their purpose.

FIRE.—Yesterday morning, about 9 o'clock in the absence of Mr. Clark Hay, at the corner of First and Mill streets, was discovered to be on fire. Soon after the alarm was sounded and the department was hurrying towards the scene of the conflagration. When they reached the place several companies reached the ground and the work of extinguishing the flames was set in earnest. When first discovered by the inmates of the house the flames were issuing from a box placed in one corner of a room in the second story. Before the department arrived the fire had reached the roof and was burning fiercely along the ridge pole. No. 5 arrived on the ground first, and soon sent in a stiff stream, which rapidly checked the progress of the flames. Other companies arriving almost immediately, the fire was speedily extinguished. The fire was confined almost entirely to the building, but few articles of household furniture having been saved. Considerable damage was sustained by the latter from the water. The entire damage to building and furniture will not exceed $300. Mr. C. D. Burch, now residing in California, is the owner of the property, and the building is occupied by his son-in-law, Mr. Ray. There is no insurance on the building or household effects.

RUNAWAY—DRIVER INJURED.—On Monday p. m., about 2 o'clock, a large span of horses belonging to Sheriff Jeffery took fright and ran away. The team was attached to a wagon used in hauling brick from the northern end of the city. At the time of the runaway, the driver was loading the wagon with brick, and had it half finished. Before the lines could be gathered in the horses were under good headway. The driver ran ahead of the team and caught hold of the bridle, but he was thrown under foot and one wheel of the wagon passed over his body, inflicting what are thought to be internal injuries. On dashed the team, until Fourth street was reached, when they turned up that thoroughfare and continued at a rapid rate of speed until Davis street, when Commissioner, being on horseback, immediately gave chase, and at length succeeded in overtaking the fugitives. Riding in advance of the horses, he caused them to slacken their speed, and finally brought them to a halt. There was no damage done to the wagon. The result of the injuries sustained by the driver cannot at present be determined.

BURIAL OF CAPT. RANDALL.—A friend writing to the Pendleton Tribune from Umatilla under date of April 23d says: "On Tuesday evening, April 20th, the body of Captain B. B. Randall arrived here for interment. It was sent to Overland Lodge No. 23, I. O. O. F., by Hiss Lodge No. 35, of which he was a member; that lodge having been apprised of the fact that the Captain had expressed a desire while living, that if he died in reach he would like to be buried at Umatilla. His body was found below the falls at Celilo, and an inquest held, and the body identified as being that of Capt. B. B. Randall. Peace to his memory and rest to his ashes.

BODY FOUND.—A note from Oregon City received yesterday, states that the body of Sam'l Newman, who was accidentally drowned by being knocked off the steamer Dayton while that boat was in the basin, on the 2d inst., was found on Saturday near the spot where the sad accident occurred.

APPOINTED.—In chambers, yesterday morning, Judge Shattuck appointed a receiver, as petitioned in the cause of Gallick vs. Whiting et al. Richard Everding was appointed.

FAST TIME.—Without exception, the most rapid time made between this city and Kalama was accomplished yesterday by the O. S. N. Co's new and beautiful steamer Bonita. Only two hours and twenty minutes were required for the craft to make the trip between Portland and Kalama, inclusive of three landings, which the steamer made. The distance by water is estimated to be 42 miles. Allowing 10 minutes for each landing, the Bonita averaged twenty-two miles an hour—a time that has never yet been made on the river. Several years ago the steamer Emma Hayward ran down in about that time, but the Columbia was very high and she had a powerful current in her favor. Besides the Hayward did not make a single landing, which was a gain of at least half an hour. For the present, the Bonita is entitled to carry the broom.

CABINET-MAKERS' UNION.—The Evening Journal is authority for the statement that initiatory steps are being taken to establish a Cabinet Makers' Union in this city at an early day. The Union will be founded upon a plan somewhat similar to one now in successful operation in San Francisco, and will have for its object the mutual benefit of its members. It is proposed that those who belong to the Union will deposits 40 per cent of all wages earned and reserve to themselves 60 per cent—the balance remaining—and the sum deposited is to be used to the advantage of the members, as the Union, as a body, shall decide.

HIGH WATER.—In our exchanges from East of the Mountains we find accounts of all the water courses being very high. At Walla Walla last week, the mercury went up to 90° in the shade and the snow in the mountains was melting rapidly. The Umatilla river is out of its banks; the John Day and Deschutes are booming, Boise river is rapidly rising, and is now as high as it was at any time last spring, and of the warm weather continues we may calculate on an undesirable flood of back water in Portland. The river here is about on a standstill.

"TRY, TRY AGAIN."—Ah Chung, ("Jim") a Chinaman in this office, who two years ago could neither speak or understand a word of English, recited plainly and forcibly "Try, Try Again," at the concert last night. We also heard a clear falsetto voice in several songs which we ascribed to him.

AN INTERESTING CONCERT.—A Sunday-school concert was held at the chapel in East Portland on Sunday evening that was highly interesting to the large audience present.

I. O. O. F.

OBSERVANCE OF THE FIFTY-SIXTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE INTRODUCTION OF THE ORDER IN THE UNITED STATES, AT MASONIC TEMPLE, LAST EVENING, BY THE ODD FELLOWS OF PORTLAND AND EAST PORTLAND.

According to announcement, the Odd Fellows of Portland and East Portland united last evening in the proper observance of the 56th anniversary of the introduction of the order in the United States. As customary, the order of exercises consisted of music, parade and oration.

At 8 o'clock the members of the several lodges of the city, including a large delegation from Orient Lodge, East Portland, marched from Odd Fellows' Hall and formed in line on the street. Under the guidance of the grand marshal, and headed by the Portland Band, the procession took up the line of march for Masonic Temple, where the exercises were to take place. A large crowd of ladies and gentlemen had assembled on the sidewalks for some time previous to the moving of the procession. After it was in motion the sidewalks on each side of the street were so densely crowded by the eager throngs that it was with extreme difficulty that one could find a way.

Arriving at the Temple, the procession filed up the broad stairway and into the spacious hall, where had already gathered a large number of ladies—wives, daughters and sisters of the members. Some little time was required for the members to find seats, but at length all was silent and the order of exercises commenced. On the rostrum were seated J. H. Lyon, Noble Grand; James A. Smith, Vice Grand; J. Kraemer, Secretary; Sy. C. Simpson, Esq., Orator of the evening, and Rev. Jos. Hoberg, Chaplain.

Order being restored by a rap from the presiding officer's gavel, the exercises opened with a dashing air by the band.

Rev. Jos. Hoberg, chaplain, came forward and invoked Divine guidance and blessing.

Following prayer an explanatory dialogue ensued, giving the founders and objects and purposes of the order, in which J. H. Lyon, N. G., Jas. A. Smith, V. G., and J. Kraemer, Sec., participated.

At the conclusion of these impressive and beautiful exercises, a thanksgiving hymn was sung by the Amphion Quartette Club, consisting of Messrs. Morgan, Struble, Morse and Franklin. This appropriate song was set to the familiar but grand old air of "Coronation," and was most spiritedly rendered by the club. The hymn consisted of five verses, the first two of which are as follows:

All glorious, mighty Lord, to thee
Our grateful song we raise;
Blest source of our prosperity,
Thy guardian care we praise.

Our Order, once a little band,
In weakness and in fear
Besought the guidance of Thy hand,
Its thorny path to cheer.

Mr. Simon Harris presided at the organ, and furnished the necessary instrumental music with precision and good effect.

Prayer was again offered by the chaplain, followed by an animated air from the band.

Hon. Sy. C. Simpson, the orator, was introduced by the presiding officer, and proceeded to address the large assemblage. His oration was replete with thought, expressed in fitting, eloquent language. Its delivery required nearly half an hour, and from the opening to the concluding sentence, the address was listened to with marked attention. At its close, the speaker took his seat amidst prolonged demonstrations of approval on the part of the audience.

"Our Flag," an ode, to the air of "Missionary Chant," was rendered in excellent style by the Amphion Club. The opening and closing stanzas were as follows:

Fling wide our banner! Land and sea
Boast prouder gonfalon than ours!
It points to higher destiny
Than crowns the strife of mortal powers.
Its field of white, its border bright,
Its bars denoting Union's might,
Its waves, an angel's wing, above,
Proclaiming Friendship, Truth and Love.

May blessings ever on it rest,
While heralding our Order's fame;
In every motion manifest
The principle of good we claim.
Whose beaming ray shall round the day
Till merges in the night our day,
And other generations prize
The flag that greets our falling eyes.

Benediction by the chaplain was then pronounced, after which the band rendered a dashing galop, and the exercises were concluded.

The procession, on leaving the hall, reformed, and marching back to the lodge room, was disbanded. The exercises were conducted in an excellent manner, and reflect great credit on the order and all who participated.

ORTHOGRAPHICAL.

Lee Chapel, in East Portland, falls into line. This evening a spelling-school for the benefit of the pastor, Rev. J. Hoberg, is to be held. Mr. J. K. Gill has offered a prize of a Webster's Unabridged Dictionary to the best speller. There will be a strong contest.

All the spellers are invited to the contest at the Unitarian chapell this evening. The success of the people connected with that church, in all they have undertaken heretofore in the way of entertaining their friends, gives assurance that the programme for this occasion will be carried out so as to make it pleasant for all in attendance.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A buggy and harness is offered for sale cheap. Here is a splendid chance. See ad.

Shippers take notice that the schooner Mila Bond is announced to sail at an early date for Tillamook.

Procession northward this evening, and invite your lady into Miller & Co.'s, 45 First st.

During the warm weather there is nothing better nor more cooling than a drink of soda water from Gibson & Co.'s "Arctic."

CHINESE CONCERT.

The Chinese connected with the Baptist mission school held a concert last evening at the First Baptist church. The house was pretty well filled and the evening's exercises passed off with credit to the scholars, and showed that the efforts put forth to teach the Chinese were not all in vain.

The concert, as such, was by no means first class, but each and all were well pleased with it considering the material out of which it was brought. At 15 minutes to 8 o'clock the several teachers connected with the school filed into the church, and were followed by their pupils. At 8 o'clock the first exercise, "Sung Yap" (a Chinese song), was sung by the school in their own language. Dr. Atkinson then led in prayer. Song, "I will sing for Jesus." This song was pretty well sung, all singing soprano. Mrs. J. S. Briggs, secretary of the mission, read a report of the work of the mission, as follows:

REPORT OF THE CHINESE MISSION.

In October, 1874, the subject of Christian work among the Chinese of this city was brought before the church by our pastor, Rev D. J. Pierce; when it was decided to establish a mission, and a committee appointed with full power to act.

The committee appointed were—Rev. D. J. Pierce, D. W. Williams, W. M. Dean, Mrs. J. S. Briggs and Miss L. A. Mitchell.

The chairman prepared a subscription list, and obtained the names of several ladies and gentlemen who pledged themselves to give a stated sum each month to meet the expenses of the mission. Bro. Dong Gong, of San Francisco, engaged to act as missionary six months, and before final action was taken, Bro. E. Z. Simmons was invited to accompany Dong Gong to Portland, that the committee might profit by his extensive experience as a Chinese missionary.

They arrived in Portland Nov. 11th, and after due consultation it was decided English reading should be taught five evenings each week, and on Thursday night Bro. Dong Gong give religious instruction in his native tongue; also to preach to his countrymen on the Sabbath and open a Sabbath school.

A call was made for volunteer teachers, which was nobly met by both church and congregation.

The school opened Nov. 13th. Bro. Simmons illustrated the best modes of teaching, and then addressed the scholars in their own language.

The results of the term are highly gratifying. Rapid progress has been made in the branches taught. Religiously, the work has been blessed by God far beyond our expectations. A number have been converted, and ten have been baptized on profession of faith in Christ. Nearly all who attend the school frequent the Joss House no more, and the inquiry by all is for more light on the true relation of man to his Creator and his fellow men. Twenty have formed themselves into a Christian Knowledge Inquiry Society, to study the Bible and the doctrines of the Christian religion. Believing a sound body necessary to a clear intellect they prohibit gamblers, drunkards, opium-smokers from being members of the society. The society meetings are earnest, orderly and animated. Each member binds himself if converted to go and preach to his countrymen anywhere if so ordered by the society or its president.

Under the able teaching of Miss Mitchell, who conducts all the singing of the mission, their progress in vocal music is remarkable both in English and Chinese songs. They delight in singing our hymns, especially those that tell of Jesus and his love.

Sabbath service is well attended and close attention given to the preaching of our faithful missionary brother Dong Gong, who is frequently assisted by Dr. Cong, a Christian Chinese physician. At intervals hymns in Chinese and English are sung in which all take part.

Sabbath school under the able superintendence of Bro. Truver, is doing a noble work. He reviews the lesson of each preceding Sabbath, and the answers by the scholars show that they are making rapid progress in religious knowledge. There are present each Sabbath a large number of volunteer teachers, who take great pleasure in this work for Christ, and the scholars reward them by drinking in knowledge as the thirsty ground takes rain.

Two Chinese women have sought the protection of the mission. Places have been provided for them in Christian families, where, after some training, they are considered efficient help. Mission work among this unfortunate class is only limited by the inability of the committee to find homes for those who would willingly leave their present mode of life.

The committee would return their thanks to those who have thus far sustained this effort by their labors, money and presence, and trust that it may be continued.

The work is growing both in extent and interest, and is now thrown on the sympathy of the Christian public for that moral and financial support without which it is impossible to proceed.

Inasmuch as ye have done it to the least of one of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto Me," saith the Master.

Dong Gong, the Chinese missionary, then delivered the following address:

SPEECH OF DONG GONG, CHINESE MISSIONARY.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: I wish to tell you a little of our customs and religions, but do not speak English well enough to do so in public meeting, so did not intend to make any remarks at all; but on account of this good work which you have done for us my thankful heart constrains me to say a word. I think I don't need to tell when China flourished and when declined; it takes too much time. I guess you know it very well already. I may tell you a little of the Chinese religion. The Chinese have different kinds of worship and different ways of forgiving sins. I have read many of their books, and have inquired the way of doing it, but none of them can stir my heart nor satisfy my conscience like the New Testament. This seems to mark all the wickedness I have done. The Saviour says the sinner can be saved. I believe him and try to do what he commands. That the Chinese reject me and laugh at me is natural, but a great many of your people laugh at me too. They think the Chinese have a right to worship idols. I consider we have no more right to worship idols than the Americans. Some say those born in the Christian land ought to be Christians, but those born in heathen lands have a right to be heathenish. I cannot think any of you believe this. The land does not make the Christian; the Christian only lives and dies in the land. That is all. England is now called a Christian land, but it was not so 1,200 years ago. So China, by and by, can be the same as England in religion. In the year of our Lord 650, the Portuguese got into China and stayed there till 1852, but did not bring in the gospel like the Americans and English. They could not enter into it. Since the year 1852, to the present time, white people travel through every stream in China. Do they do this by men's power or by God's power? Could the English get in there 1200 years ago when they were not Christians? I guess not. China is the strongest heathen nation in the world, and the best kind of heathen people in the world, but not good like the Christian nation. God leads the minds and knowledge of the Christian nation to prepare everything for opening China, not only for the people to do business, but for His gospel to spread among them. I told you that I believe in religion except the religion of Christ. I told you He is a real Savior, but I did not show how I prove Him to be the Savior of the world. The proofs are many though one is enough. He said, "till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law till all be fulfilled." If He is not God, then He had no more power than a man. His book is read not only by common people but by the highest and the lowest. Some powerful king might read that book and, seeing such words in it, he might say, "What a blasphemer he is!" Let me kill every one of your men and women and destroy every book you have, and see whether your word will pass away or not, but the more they do so the quicker it spreads. If the Jews had not persecuted the Christians the disciples might never have gone away from Jerusalem. China has shut itself up. If God does not open it to let the missionary in, the word of Christ will never be fulfilled. But God wants it to be done and it is done. Men cannot oppose Him. For this reason I can see that Jesus is my Lord and my Savior. I am not ashamed to go to Him boldly, that I may be saved.

Now, good Christian friends, the good work which you have done for the Chinese is not in vain. There is a hope for China to become a civilized nation. I will tell you how they are waking up. The Emperor of China has now started a foreign college in every principal city to learn the English language and customs. Eighteen years ago they drove them away, now they hire them to teach, not only that, but the Emperor tried to get 300 boys to go to America to obtain information on all subjects; but he could only get from 40 to 60 at the time, because the parents did not know what he was going to do with them. But they are beginning to move now, only not very rapidly. China is a splendid country when it becomes civilized and the people would give up idolatry and superstitions. Now they will not let people injure the ground or mountains. There is gold, silver, brass, iron, lead, coal, all kinds of mines that never have been dug out. Some Chinese who went home from America, thought they would go and dig some gold, but the people drove them off without mercy. China is a great nation, and if civilized, would be of great importance in the world. America, England, France, Prussia, Russia and Portugal all have ministers there to have intercourse with the Chinese. If Chinese are of no consequence, why do all of these nations have their ministers there?

Now, we thank you very much for what you have done for these Chinese in this school. They have all learned much of the English language. But some of them have also learned about God and learned to worship Him. By-and-by they may go back to China and tell their own people about the Christian religion, and teach somebody to love Jesus. Perhaps they may learn some of their folks to live as you live, and to give up all evil worship. And when you come up to Heaven's gate, perhaps you will see some of these brethren coming too, with their friends which have learned how to walk in the King's highway. And then you shall have reward and joy for your labors.

Duet—"Song from Over the Sea," Miss A. Mitchell and Mrs. E. Jordan. Song—"The Morning Light is Breaking." Class exercise, Happy Land; was then ordered on the organ by Sam Bo, one of the Chinese scholars. Song—"Weeping will not Save Me;" by Misses Idu and Mary Shogren's classes. Recitation of the Ten Commandments by Sam Bo, one of Miss Mitchell's class. Song—"He Leadeth Me," by Mrs. Traver's class. Song—"All to Christ I Owe," by the school. Anthem—"Hark! the Song of Jubilee," a quartette by Misses Mitchell and Sparks, and Messrs. Noon and Raymond. Sam Bo recited XIXth Psalm. Solo and chorus—"Who is He?" by Miss Mitchell's class. Song—"Jesus Loves Me," by the school." There were 28 Chinese in the concert, and nine officers and teachers. About $60 was taken in as the proceeds of the concert, which will leave the mission free of debt. The mission school will be continued in the same room, on Alder street, where visitors are always welcome.

Spelling matches are all the rage now and there is no telling what may follow to occupy the attention of society. What attracts most attention in the vicinity of Front and Washington streets is the establishment of BEUK & WALDMAN. The immense stock of spring and summer clothing, and the marked changes in the matter of charges at this house is sufficient to draw large crowds to their store. Youths' clothing continues a specialty, and fond parents make a great mistake if they fail to examine the stock at Beck & Waldman's.

KOHN, opposite the National Bank, is still busy disposing of those new and exceedingly attractive styles of summer suits. His recent visit to San Francisco gave him an opportunity to make the necessary arrangements for the shipment to his house of the latest and most fashionable suits as they should appear. Everybody who has had any acquaintance with Kohn needs no urging. You need a suit or some furnishing goods now, and Kohn offers you a splendid chance to buy.

M. ROSENBLATT, Clothier, has just returned from San Francisco with a large stock of Spring goods—particularly Boys' and Youths' Clothing, at lower rates than ever. Call and see before purchasing. The store is No. 79 Front street.

SOMETIME.

I am waiting for the shadows round me lying
To drift away—
I am waiting for the sunlight, always flying,
To come and stay;
I know there's light beyond the cloudy curtain,
A light sublime
That it will shine on me, I now am certain—
Sometime! Sometime!

I am waiting for the Summer's golden luster—
Not far away—
When golden fruits around my life shall cluster
Each sunny day;
We read of fadeless flowers in fabled story—
In far-off clime—
And I shall pluck them in their pristine glory,
Sometime! Sometime!

Then I shall hear the voice of loved ones call me
To their dear side;
And I shall then, whatever may befall me,
Rest satisfied.
For on my ear sweet notes of love shall tremble
In matchless rhyme—
From hearts and lips that never can dissemble—
Sometime! Sometime!

I am waiting; but at times I grow so weary—
Far seems the day
When all the pain which makes our lives so dreary
Shall pass away.
I know the heart, oft filled with tones of sadness,
Like funeral chime,
Shall echo back with songs of love and gladness—
Sometime! Sometime!

A SCENE IN COURT.

[From the Rochester (N. Y.) Democrat.]

Judge Fullerton asked Miss Turner: "Do you know the price of putty?" The witness said promptly: "During what state of the putty market?" "Now, then," said the counsel, "this is really unbearable. Here I ask the witness a question demanding a plain answer—yes or no—and she prevaricates in this astounding manner." "Your Honor," said Mr. Evarts, "will please bear in mind that the market for putty varies. There is a hail-storm, and putty rises. There is a quiet neighborhood, where there are no small boys or other troubles, and you can get putty there for nothing, except in the inclement seasons peculiar to this climate. The ingredients of which putty is composed are themselves subject to fluctuations. My distinguished friend puts the question: 'Do you know the price of putty?' and I submit that the witness cannot answer the question with a mere 'yes' or 'no.' To use the negative would evidence gross ignorance of the cost of a very common article in the erection of buildings. To use the affirmative would subject her to the charge of insufferable egotism; for who of us can be expected to know the price of putty whenever called upon? Now, I suppose my learned friend means a general question as to the price of putty; but he has put the question in the present tense. To find the exact price of putty at this moment, it would be necessary for the most of us, I fancy, to consult the glaziers and the market reports." There was applause in the gallery, and Judge Neilson told the janitor to see that that did not occur again. "If your Honor please," said Mr. Beach, rising, "we are trying to discover the state of an interior window in the plaintiff's house at the time the witness assumes to have seen the defendant hanging pictures. We wish to show the quality of the darkness, the strength of the lights, the condition of the atmosphere, the cleanliness or otherwise of the panes of glass, the state of the sash at the period referred to, and various other things. Now, if this is to be shown clearly, your Honor will see that the plaintiff's knowledge or otherwise of the putty business is a most vital matter." Here Mr. Shearman arose and said with some emphasis that the question as put was unfair; he might also call it an insult to the witness. Whereupon Judge Fullerton arose and said that was an imputation upon his character as a lawyer which he would not tamely submit to. More applause, and by Judge Neilson's direction, a red-headed man was taken out of the gallery by the ear. "If your Honor please," said Mr. Evarts, "my learned friend is a little too sensitive. I dare say my colleague meant no offense by his remark, and I have noticed a disposition on the part of the prosecution to browbeat." "Sir!" said Judge Fullerton, in a towering rage. At this period all the counsel rose, with threatening gestures, and the spectators craned their necks forward with evident expectancy. The counsel have used two expressions which are offensive, and will, doubtless, withdraw them," said Judge Neilson, with dignity. They were immediately withdrawn, and Judge Fullerton again put the question, "Do your know the price of putty?" "We object," said Mr. Evarts, promptly. "Does the prosecution mean to show the exact period of the night during which Mr. Tilton arranged his pictures?" asked Judge Neilson, "and does this question lead up to it?" "Precisely," said Judge Fullerton. "But I insist, your Honor," said Mr. Evarts, "that the witness is not an expert in putty, and, therefore, she can not be expected to answer in this precise manner as to the price of it. Now, if your Honor will permit me to refer to Greenleaf vs. Mollgrube, 4 R. S., 16 B., 96 X." "The counsel will take his seat," said Judge Neilson. "Your Honor," said Mr. Evarts, evidently annoyed, but still courteous, "will you please note my exception?" And, when the witness was again asked the question, she answered it promptly with the monosyllable, "Yes," which undoubtedly closes the case against Mr. Beecher, though the exception furnishes excellent ground for an appeal.

A curious case of swindling came before the Correctional Court of Paris lately. An unfrocked priest named Vidal opened an agency for the arrangement of masses. Persons unable to go through the necessary formalities applied to Vidal, who undertook to see the masses properly performed, and in return for the money gave them a receipt signed by the officiating priest. The agency appears to have lasted several years, until one day a customer discovered that the mass for which he paid had never been celebrated. Vidal was arrested, and the fact then oozed out that his agency was a mere swindle, none of the thousands of masses with which he had been charged ever having been performed. His gains amounted to several thousand pounds, and he was assisted in his work by two priests named Houmean and Lacombe, who managed to escape. Vidal was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment. How the poor souls thus robbed of their supposed expiatory rites are likely to fare is a question which has not been decided.

WHERE IGNORANCE WOULD BE BLISS.—A dog at Utica has been trained to carry the little daughter of his owner to school in a sled made especially for the purpose. When the time for closing school at noon or night arrives, the dog is hitched to the sled and starts alone for the school-house after his little mistress, whom he either waits for outside or meets her on her way home. The dog is so proficient that often when the time for going after the girl arrives, he quietly slides away and is nowhere to be found. Upon being discovered he will look very much ashamed, and immediately submits to harnessing, and trots off as fast as possible to perform his duties.

A Sunday-school teacher told her class about the wise and the foolish virgins, and asked them the next Sunday to repeat the story. All but one little miss had forgotten, and she only remembered that it was about "them women who forgot their kerosene."

Monetary matters move on in their usual channel, with a slight decrease in the volume of the demand of those engaged in the produce movement and about a corresponding increase in the enquiry from other branches of business. The season has not been one of unusual prosperity with those whose business is to lend money, although the surplus capital of the country has generally been employed, but it has borne lower rates, as a rule, than ever before in our State. Such was the plethoric state of the money market of San Francisco for some months prior to the commencement of the late heavy shipments of specie from that city to the East, that this market felt the effects of the abundance there, and money-lenders and money loaning institutions had to accede to the demands of the times, and content themselves with a rate of least two, per cent. per annum less than had been the rule in Portland before. And even now, when the market is less plethoric there and harder here, it is found no easy task to return to the old and higher rates, and, as a consequence, fewer loans and discounts are taking place, and people are making efforts to economize and retrench rather than launch out in new enterprises, and undertake large improvements in a hardening money market. Thus we have a dull condition of affairs financially, more because of the comparative than of any actual scarcity of available capital.

Monday as usual is a dull day in business matters, and merchants are having more leisure than they get later in the week. The prospect, however, has no new features that are considered at all discouraging, but on the contrary, the not distant future is regarded with hope and cheerfulness.

The freighting business continues is decreasing in volume, but still imports are quite as large as is consistent with a healthy commercial condition of the community, and especially so if considered with reference to the light export trade now prevailing. Trade matters show but little change in volume or direction since our last review. Nor are there any material fluctuations in quotations. The connections in the wholesale and jobbing departments are mostly with the section east of the Cascades and the Puget Sound country, though orders from up the valley are not by no means insignificant. However the spring trade with the latter region is mostly supplied, and orders there are principally to fill up broken stocks or for seasonable agricultural goods.

The grocery market at present has a firm tone, and trade in some leading articles is responding to an increased demand arising from an expected advance in prices. This advance is experienced in sugars, and will soon follow in syrups. Coffee is also firmer, and a rise is not the most improbable event by any means. Our market is still a little short on choice Island sugars, and arrivals from Honolulu are anxiously looked for to supply the want.

Crop Reports.

A Washington City dispatch of April 20th, says:

An investigation of the condition of winter wheat by the statistical division of the Department of Agriculture, presents the crop as a whole much below the status of last year. In April the northern belt was generally protected by a covering of snow, leaving the wheat intact, though the crops might be brown and lifeless in places; between the 35th and 40th parallels of latitude the plant has been less uniform and continuous, and the freezing and thawing in March were destructive in the most exposed situations. The injury is greatest in portions of Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and Kansas. In the areas south of the 38th parallel the wheat is uninjured by frost and is vigorous, even luxuriant in some districts. The advantage of drilling is in all sections asserted.

In California the early crop is an assured success, but fears are entertained that the prevailing north winds and the absence of rains may greatly reduce the yield of the less advanced portion of the crop. There is an apparent increase of about 7 per cent in area of wheat sown, amounting in round numbers to 1,500,000 acres, though that portion of the winter wheat killed and to be replanted in other crops may be equal in the west to the enlargement of the planted area. This is small in the Middle States, considerable in Kansas and Missouri, proportionately large in the Gulf States, and reaching 20 per cent in the southwest.

From Detroit, same date, reports collected from all parts of Michigan, indicate that the prospects for the wheat crop are not flattering, the wheat having been disastrously afflicted by drought last fall, and the severity of the winter. Apples will be good, and small fruits fair. Peaches are gone beyond repair.

The Wheat Market.

The latest telegrams from Liverpool indicate a decline to 9s per central for wheat in that market of average California quality, and buyers here are not urging the home market, though quotations are not changed from the figures last given. The San Francisco Bulletin says the receipts there continue light and there is a growing impression that the quantity left in the State is small. The Produce Exchange made some effort to ascertain the stock on the list, but the result has not been made public, and very little has been done in that direction. The best wheat now commands $1 75 in that market for lots for local milling, and millers are of the opinion that it will be no lower this season no matter what the condition of the growing crop. The price of flour in San Francisco has been advanced 12½c all round, and would be still higher were it not for the large quantity offering. There has also been an advance in bran and middlings. A year ago the price of wheat in that market was $1 90@2 00 ₱ 100 lbs, and the tendency is again in that direction.

BARLEY—There are but few transactions occurring. Quotable at $1 25 per 100 lbs for common and $1 30@1 40 for choice. The demand is fair.

MILL FEED—The scarcity noticed for several weeks past still prevails and prices are very high for the season. We quote bran at $14@15 per ton; chops, middlings, etc., $27 50@30; shorts, $22 50@25; cracked corn meal, $30.

APPLES, DRIED—There is only a dull demand and prices are weak at 5@5½c ₱ lb, in sacks, and 6½@6c in kegs.

BACON—The supply is ample for the current demand and large lots cannot be placed at an advantage. Sides are quotable at 10½@11½c per lb; hams, 12½@13½c; shoulders 9@9½c.

LARD—Choice fresh Oregon made is in fair demand in kegs and tins at 10c ₱ lb, an advance of 1 cent since last report.

WOOL—The prospect of a fair demand and better prices for the spring clip are not discouraging. Choice will probably open at 22c ₱ lb; common, 19@22c. Wool sacks, to hold 180@220 lbs, are quotable here at 55@58c each.

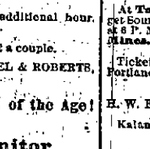
Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.



This compound of the vegetable alterratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and baffling. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, and invigorates with renewed health and vitality the whole body. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Liverations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weaknesses, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

HAIR

HAIR

RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores grey or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching, and dandruff, and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and causing the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

Buckingham's Dye,

FOR THE WHISKERS.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black at discretion. It is easily applied, being in one preparation, and quickly and efficiently produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

HINT. If not necessity, makes a Hair Dressing indispensable to many. The new "IOGOR," which Dr. AYER'S laboratory issues, is one of the most delightful we have ever used. It restores not only the color, but gloss and luxuriance to faded and gray hair.
